- Independent students and serious readers of Jung

A WORKING DESKTOP REFERENCE

Jung's work is vast, layered, and spread across twenty volumes. The terms recur — Shadow, Anima, Puer Aeternus, Mother Complex, Trickster, Self — but tracking down a clear, consistent account of each one means hours navigating scattered sources.

This Repertory consolidates the classical Jungian canon — the Collected Works of C. G. Jung and the interpretive scholarship of Marie-Louise von Franz, Erich Neumann, and Edward Edinger — into a single, organised reference. Each entry presents the defining characteristics, core dynamics, symbolic expressions, developmental task, and key source references for the archetype or complex under examination.

Designed as a desktop ready reckoner — not introductory reading, and not a substitute for the primary texts. The Repertory complements the reading and study required of practitioners and training candidates, serving as the working tool kept at hand alongside Jung's Collected Works, supervisory casework, and clinical practice. Built for every level of engagement with Jungian thought, from senior practitioner to first-year candidate to the independent reader.

KEY POINTS

- The only Jungian repertory of its kind in print
- ~70 verified citations against the primary literature
- Designed as a desktop reference — not introductory reading
- Suitable for institute reading lists and candidate libraries
- Both formats: portable paperback and institutional hardcover
- Author: 40+ years meditation; 20+ years teaching; clinical homoeopath

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Peter Twigg is a meditation teacher, homoeopath, and naturopath with over forty years of personal meditation practice and more than twenty years of teaching worldwide. He is the founder of the School of Knowing and author of Truth Centred Meditation (Cauthray Publishing, 2023). The Repertory format itself — a structured storehouse of cross-referenced material — is drawn from the homoeopathic clinical tradition and applied here to Jungian terrain.
